

QUANTIFIERS

Much, many, a lot of en (a) little, (a) few

Veel - in ontkennende en vraagzinnen	Much - voor niet-telbare woorden	Many - voor woorden in het meervoud	Veel – in bevestigende zinnen	A lot of – zowel voor niet-telbare woorden als voor woorden in het meervoud
	I haven't got much work to do. How much money do I have to pay?	They don't have many friends, do they? How many telephone calls did you receive yesterday?	I've won a lot of money in the lottery. He usually puts a lot of milk in his tea. We've invited a lot of guests to the party. You need a lot of eggs for this cake.

Weinig	Little - not much voor niet-telbare woorden	Few - not many voor woorden in het meervoud
	We have little money. / We haven't (got) much money. There's little doubt about John's guilt. / There's not much doubt about John's guilt.	There are few people here tonight. / There aren't many people here tonight. I have few valuable things. / I don't have many valuable things.

Een beetje – een paar	A little - voor niet-telbare woorden	A few - voor woorden in het meervoud
	I'd like a little time to think about it. Maybe you should add a little water.	May I ask you a few questions? He left the house a few minutes ago.